

NSHE Mentoring Institute 2024 (MI2024): Growing STEM Education, Research and Workforce Through Mentorship at Nevada Institutions of Higher Learning

A special thank you to Lindsay Currie & Winny Dong of the Council on Undergraduate Research and MI2024 Planning Committee for lending their time and expertise in planning and implementing this year's NSHE Mentoring Institute.

Michele Casella, Committee Lead
Education, Outreach & Diversity Administrator
Nevada System of Higher Education, Sponsored Programs & EPSCoR

MI2024 Committee Members

Matthew Aguirre, Graduate School, University of Nevada, Reno

Valarie Burke, Graduate College, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Meghan Collins, Research & Science Communications, Desert Research Institute

Mayara Cueto-Diaz, Nevada System of Higher Education, Sponsored Programs & EPSCoR

Tanya Kelley, Office of Undergraduate Research, University of Nevada, Reno

Athena Lewis, Nevada System of Higher Education, Sponsored Programs & EPSCoR

Rafael Oganessian, Office of Undergraduate Research, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Maureen Saccomani, Nevada System of Higher Education, Sponsored Programs & EPSCoR

Brooklyn Stepro, Dean's Office, College of Sciences, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Adine Stormoen, Life Sciences, Allied Health and Public Safety Division, Truckee Meadows Community College

Thank you for all your hard work and dedication for MI2024!

"This material is based upon work supported by the National Science Foundation under Grant No. OIA-2148788."